

A New Year and New Opportunities Await!

Qualicoat, a leader in the application of industrial and functional coatings has an exciting opportunity for the right candidate to join our growing team.

Process Engineer:

Responsibilities : • Develop and implement high quality processes in a timely manner to meet customer specifications and demand • Manage multi-faceted projects and programs • Determine process/tools/parts required to achieve customer specifications and achieve manufacturing goals • Support manufacturing efforts on the shop floor in order to improve efficiencies and profitability of the organization • Interpret specifications and blueprints • Process will include but aren't limited to part surface pretreatment, masking, painting, powder coating, and graphics applications

Qualifications : Education: Degree in Engineering. Mechanical or Electrical preferred but will consider other disciplines with appropriate work experience or combination of work experience and training.

Experience : 3-5 years in a Mechanical or Process Engineering in Manufacturing Environment or similar role. Special Skills: • Ability to interpret blueprints • Experience working in a job shop environment is desirable • Experience in Lean 6 Sigma and 5S practices is desirable • Experience in an ISO 9001:2008 environment or an understanding of it is desirable • Experience in the coatings industry is desirable but not required • Must maintain a sense of urgency and accuracy in a progressive workplace • Must be proficient in Microsoft Word and Excel and other Windows based ERP software.

Qualicoat offers superior benefits and first-class salary based on experience.

Background, Physical, and Drug Screen Required, EOE

Send Resume to: Jobs@qualicoat.com