

Exceptional Job Opportunity for Pre-Med students: Outpatient Physician Scribe

Job Highlights:

- Offers paid one-on-one time with board certified physicians.
- Paid training providing a crash course in medicine.
- Wages are $10.40/hr.
- Flexible shift scheduling.
- It is an excellent resume builder for medical school or other careers in medicine.

How to Apply:

Visit www.scribeamerica.com for the application

Details:

The Physician groups at University of Rochester Family Practice offices are currently looking for medical scribes. They have contracted with our company ScribeAmerica to hire and train their Physician Scribes. Accordingly we are recruiting outstanding individuals interested in careers in medicine to begin staffing their program. Our company is one of the largest scribe companies in the United States with over 3000 scribes. We are looking to recruit candidates to become part of our team.

The job opportunity is called a “Medical Physician Scribe;” we act as personal assistants to the physician and perform all of their non-patient-care tasks. These include documentation, patient tracking, organization, and much more. We are looking for extremely motivated, sharp, and adaptable students who perform well in a fast-paced and high-energy environment. Because you will work one-on-one with a board certified physician for the entirety of their shift you become intimately familiar with medical practices. It is extremely exciting work. Additionally you gain first-hand experience documenting exactly like a physician; a skill that is invaluable later for any career in health.

There is both theoretical classroom training and applied training live in the clinic. Because of the rigors of training, all hours spent training are paid. Both time in the classroom and time in the clinic are compensated. After training, shifts last 8 hours each, and we ask for a minimum of two shifts per week. Additionally, since I personally commit over 100 hours of training for each employee, there is verbal commitment of two years of work. Additionally we are looking to hire a chief scribe to run the program at this hospital so career opportunities are available for noteworthy candidates.

There are few other opportunities that allow for such direct exposure and this opportunity is paid. This job is one of a kind; those who have excelled as scribes have consistently progressed to have successful careers in medicine. If you especially impress a physician they will be happy to provide a strong letter of recommendation for medical school. Additionally the medical terminology acquired during your time as a scribe will put you leagues above your other classmates later in school.

To find out more information visit www.scribeamerica.com or contact me, Jennifer Buley, Junior Project Leader at Jennifer.buley@scribeamerica.com. Please let me know if you have any questions.